2. BASIS FOR COMPOSITION AND PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND ACCOUNTING METHOD

2.1 Basis for composition and presentation of financial statements

Financial statements for I-XII 2015 have been prepared in accordance legislation and approved at the meeting of the Supervisory Board on 26.04.2016.

Legal entities and entrepreneurs in Serbia are required to maintain books of account, recognition and evaluation of assets and liabilities, income and expenditure, and to make, present, submit and disclose financial statements in accordance with the Law on Accounting and Auditing (hereinafter the Law published in the "Official Gazette of the RS", No. 62/2013) and in accordance with other relevant secondary legislation. A company as large legal entity is required to apply International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"), which in terms of the Law include: Framework for the Preparation and Presentation of Financial Statements ("Framework"), International Accounting Standards ("IAS"), international Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") and related interpretations issued by the Committee for the interpretation of accounting standards ("IFRIC"), subsequent amendments to those standards and related interpretations approved by the International Accounting standards Board ("Board") of which the translation is determined and published by the Ministry in charge of finance.

Decision of the Ministry of 13 March 2014, which was published in the Official Gazette No. 35 of 27 March 2014 (hereinafter "the Decision on establishing the translations") determined and published translations of the basic texts of IAS and IFRS conceptual framework for financial reporting ("Conceptual Framework"), approved by the Board, as well as related IFRIC interpretations. Those translations published in the Decision on establishing the translation does not include the basis for conclusions, illustrative examples, guidelines, comments, opposing opinions, developed examples and other supplementary explaining material that can be adopted in relation to standards or interpretations, unless expressly stated that the material is an integral part of these standards or interpretations. Based on Decision on establishing translation the conceptual framework, IAS, IFRS, IFRIC and related interpretations that are translated are in the application from the financial statements that are prepared as of 31 December 2014. Revised or issued IFRS and standard interpretations, after this date, have not been translated and published, and therefore are not applied in the preparation of these financial statements.

However, to the date of these financial statements, not all amendments to IAS / IFRS and IFRIC interpretations were translated that were effective for annual periods beginning on 1 January 2015. In addition, certain laws and subordinate legislation prescribes the accounting procedures, evaluation and disclosure which in some cases differ from the requirements of IAS / IFRS and IFRIC interpretations.

In addition, enclosed financial statements defer from IAS and IFRS following points:

- Deviations from IAS 1 "Presentation of Financial Statements" and IAS 16 "Property, plant and equipment" in the treatment and recording the effects of equity valuation and whose main part is the valuation of property and equipment and investment property. Namely, in accordance with Article 27 of the Independent Members Law on Amendments and Supplements to the Law on right to free shares and financial compensation realized by the citizens in the privatization procedure ("Official Gazette" no. 30/2010) the founder of the Company was required to ensure that until June 30, 2010, the Company changes its legal form and expresses its capital in shares of certain par value based on the adjusted book value of equity. Accordingly, after the capital valuation was performed posting of estimated values of assets and liabilities in favour of the revaluation reserves. Based on the decision of the Board of Directors of the Company No. 04-100 /1 of 31 May 2010 on the capital increase, and the Decision of the Government of the Republic of Serbia number 023-4175/2010 of 4 June 2010 on the approval of the aforementioned decision on the increase of capital from their own funds by converting the reserves and retained earnings into core capital of JP Aerodrom Nikola Tesla, the Company in its business books made accounting records of increase of the state capital as of 1 January 2010, adjusting the opening balance by reduction of other capital, reserves, revaluation reserves and retained earnings. The aforementioned accounting treatment departs from IAS 16 "Property, plant and equipment", according to which: 1) the result of the revaluation attributed directly to equity, in line item revaluation reserve or recognized as revenue in the income statement to the extent that it reverses a revaluation decrease of the same asset previously recognized as an expense, as well as in the area where 2) revaluation reserves that are part of capital related to property, plant and equipment may be transferred directly to retained earnings when the asset ceases to be recognized. Due to the above mentioned recognition of valuation in the accompanying financial statements in accordance with the mentioned acts are not in accordance with IAS 1 either "Presentation of Financial Statements" and IAS 16 "Property, Plant and Equipment".
- · Deviations from IAS 12 "Income Taxes" on the basis of which the recognized deferred tax liability or asset arising from the revaluation of assets that are not amortized in accordance with IAS 16 "Property, Plant and Equipment" and measures based on the tax consequences that would ensue recovery of the carrying value of that asset through sale, regardless of the basis for measuring the carrying value of the asset. Due to the inability of a clear interpretation of the rules regarding the tax treatment of any sale or transfer of rights to use the land, and the determination and the right to dispose of land ownership in the Company, and for the specific activities and regulation of business operations of airports in the Republic of Serbia, as well as the specific provisions of Independent Members of the Law of the amendments and supplements to the Law on right to free shares and financial compensation realized by the citizens in the privatization process ("Official Gazette of RS" no. 30/2010), we consider that those provisions of IAS 12 "Income Taxes" can not be applied in the circumstances. Assuming that in the case of sale or transfer of rights to use the land this transaction would be subject to capital gains tax and that the purchase value for tax purposes would be determined at the level of purchase value reported in the books of the Company on 31.12.2003 as determined in accordance with the previously applicable accounting regulations as prescribed procedure for real estate owned by legal entities in the Republic of Serbia, in accordance with IAS 12 "Income Taxes" deferred tax liabilities based on the revalued land as of 31.12.2015 amounted to RSD 1,163,256 thousand, ie total liabilities would be increased, and the capital reduced by the same amount. If and when there is a conversion of right to use the title to the land referred deferred tax liabilities will undoubtedly exist and the Company will have to register them and shown in its financial statements.

3. PREVIEW OF IMPORTANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

3.1 Incomes and outcomes

Sales revenue is recognized when the risks and benefits associated with the right of ownership is transferred to the customer, and that includes the date of delivery to the customer.

Revenue from services is recognized when the service is rendered, or proportionately during the performance of services if it lasts for more than one accounting period.

Revenue from lease based on operational leasing are recognized evenly over the lease.

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the funds received or receivable, in net amount after deduction of discounts and value added tax.

Revenue from interest and dividends are recognized in accordance with the principle of the formation in favour of the accounting period to which they relate, using the effective interest method.

With the date on which revenues are recognized are also recognized corresponding expenditures (principle of causality of revenue and expenditure).

Operating expenditures are recognized in the income statement according to utilization of acquired services or as they are incurred.

Expenses are accounted for on an accrual basis of revenue and expenditure.

Maintenance and repair of fixed assets are recorded in the income statement in the accounting period when they arise.

3.2. Costs of borrowings

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, are included in the purchase value of the asset and until that period when all the activities are essentially completed, necessary to prepare the asset for the intended use or sale. Assets being qualified relate to the assets which required a significant period of time to get ready for its intended use.

Income from investments realized on the basis of the temporary investment of borrowed funds is deducted from the borrowing costs incurred intended to finance assets that qualify.

All other borrowing costs are recognized in the income statement in the period to which they relate.

3.3. Conversion of foreign exchange amount

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are converted into dinars at the official exchange rates established on the Interbank Exchange Market, prevailing at the transaction date.

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the balance sheet date are converted into dinars by applying the official exchange rates established on the Interbank Exchange Market, in effect on that day.

Gains and losses arising from transactions in foreign currencies and from the recalculation of monetary items in the balance sheet items denominated in foreign currencies are credited or charged to the income statement as gains or losses from exchange rate differences.

Non-monetary items in the balance sheet are not recalculated at the balance sheet date but are carried at historical cost, calculated at the exchange rate on the date of transaction, except for non-monetary items that are measured at fair value, in which case they are recalculated at the exchange rate on the date of determination of fair value. Revenues and Expenditures based on exchange rate differences and currency clause effects are recorded in the income statement of the recorded period.

Average foreign exchange rates, determined at the interbank foreign exchange market, used in the conversion of foreign currency balance sheet positions into dinars, for the major currencies were as follows:

|------------------------------|-----------------|------------|--|--|--|
| Middel exchange rate of NBS: | Value in RSD    |            |  |  |  |

| GBP                          | 164.9391 154.36 |            |  |  |  |

Liabilities based on long-term loans from the EIB and obligations of Hypo Leasing, are converted into RSD counter value at an agreed selling rate of the bank.

Selling rates of banks on the date of financial statements preparation are presented in the following table:

|---------------------------|--------------|------------|--|--|--|

| EUR - for Hypo leasing    |              | 122.7727   |  |  |  |

3.4. Intangible investments

Intangible assets relate to purchased software and licenses and are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and are written-off by straight line method over a period of two to ten years.

3.5. Real estates, plants, equipment, biological resources

Property, plant and equipment that meet the requirements for recognition of assets are carried at their purchase price or cost. Cost represents the invoiced amount plus all expenses incurred to its intended use.

After initial recognition, property, plant and equipment are presented at revalued amount that reflects their fair value at the date of revaluation, less the total amount of the value correction based on amortization and total amount of value correction for impairment loss.

The fair value of real estate makes their market value, which is determined by the assessment. Revaluation takes place only when the fair value of a revalued asset differs materially from its carrying amount. Gains from revaluation are recognized in other gains and losses in favour of the revaluation reserve in equity. Do the amounts previously recognized losses from the revaluation or impairment recognized in the income statement, gains from revaluation are recognized in the income statement, and the rest of gains are recognized in other gains and losses. Losses on revaluation are recognized after valuation or testing for impairment, and are recognized in other gains and losses up to the amount of previously recognized revaluation reserve in equity and the remainder of losses are recognized in the income statement. At expenditure or disposal of assets related revaluation reserve is transferred directly to undistributed profit.

The last assessment of the value of property, plant and equipment was made on 31.12.2014.

Tools and supplies, whose useful life is longer than one year and individual purchase price greater than the average gross salary in the Republic, are recognized as property, plant and equipment at purchase cost. These assets are amortized according to the estimated useful life.

Gains or losses arising from write-offs or alienation are recognized as revenue or expenditure in the income statement.

3.6. Amortisation of properties, plants, equipment and intangible investments

Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is calculated using straight-line method over the estimated useful life. The depreciation rates that were used in the 2014 business year, as well as the rate of amortization calculated based on the useful life of the assets applied in 2015 are given in the following table:

3.7. Investment property

Investment properties are properties that the Company, as the owner, holds to earn rentals or for capital appreciation or for both of them, and not for use in the provision of services or for administrative purpose or sale in the ordinary course of business. Initial measurement of investment property during the acquisition is carried at purchase value or cost price. After initial recognition, valuation of investment property is carried at fair value at the end of each business year. Positive and negative effects from changes in fair value of investment property are recognized through the income statement.

The Company has engaged a certified appraiser - Institute for Economic Research Belgrade, to assess the value of investment property as on 31.12.2015.

In the report on assessment of the fair value the investment property is determined by the weight of probability of estimated value using the replacement cost method and the yield method.

3.8. Impairment

At each balance sheet date the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that there has been a loss due to the impairment of such assets. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of assets is estimated so that the extent of the impairment loss could be determined. If it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit, to which the asset belongs.

The recoverable amount is net selling price or value in use, whichever is higher. For the purposes of assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using the discount rate before tax that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

If the estimated recoverable amount of the asset (or cash generating unit) is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. Losses from impairment are recognized as an expense immediately, unless the relevant asset is land or buildings that are not used as investment property carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is treated as a reduction in the value of revaluation.

With the subsequent reversal of the impairment, the carrying amount of the asset (cash generating unit) is increased to the revised estimated recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined in previous years if there were no losses recognized in this asset (cash generating unit) due to impairment. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in income, unless the relevant asset is carried at appraised value, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is treated as an increase due to revaluation.

On 3 Secember, 2015, based on the Company's management estimates there are no indications that the value of the assets is impaired.

3.9. Stocks

Stocks are disclosed per purchase value, i.e. cost value or net sale value, depending on the fact which one is lower.

Net sale value is price for sale of stocks in nominal operation conditions after price decrease by sale costs. Cost includes the invoiced value, transport and acquisition costs.

Calculation of stock output is determined by the method of average weighed purchase price.

Inventories are recorded at the sales price. At the end of the accounting period, their value is adjusted to cost allocation, price differences, calculated on an average basis between the purchaser cost of realized goods and supplies in stock at the end of the year.

Charged to other expenses shall be corrected inventory value in cases where it determines that is necessary to bring value to their net estimated realizable value (including inventories with slow turnover, excess and obsolete inventories). Damaged inventory and inventory that does not meet the standards are written off.

3.10. Taxes and contributions

Income tax

Income tax expense in the income statement represents the sum of current tax expense and deferred tax expense not recognized within other gains and losses or directly in equity.

Receivables and liabilities in respect of current income tax or deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only when the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts and if it intends to settle on a net basis or simultaneously realize the asset and settle the liability.

Current income tax

Assets and liabilities arising from current income taxes represent liabilities or receivables from the fiscal authorities in connection with the current or prior periods that are not implemented on the date of these financial statements.

Current income tax represents an amount calculated by applying the statutory income tax rate of 15% on the tax base determined in the tax balance, which represents the amount of profit before tax after deduction of the effects of adjusting income and expenses, in accordance with the tax regulations of the Republic of Serbia, with the decrease in the statutory income tax credits.

The Law on Corporate Income Tax of the Republic of Serbia do not envisage that any tax losses of the current period be used to recover taxes paid in previous years. However, losses which are included in the tax balance until 2009, can be used to reduce the tax base in future periods over the next ten years from the vesting date, and the losses realized and recognized in the tax statement for 2010 and beyond, can be used to reduce the tax base in future periods, but not longer than five years.

The Law on Corporate Income Tax of the Republic of Serbia in the part of tax credit provides that taxpayers who have until December 31, 2013 were entitled to a tax incentive under Art. 48. The previous law, and expressed the information in the tax return and the tax return for 2013, cannot be entitled to use up to the deadline and in the manner prescribed by the earlier law. According to Art.48 Paragraph 5 of the previous law, "unused tax credits can be offset against income tax in future periods up to the prescribed limit of 33% (for large and medium-sized enterprises), but not longer than ten (10) years that you apply as of the tax balance sheet for the year 2003 ". In determining the income tax for 2016, the earliest previous tax period from which they can use unused tax credit is the tax account or PK form in 2006. Transferred tax credit is used in the order of investment.

Deferred income tax

Deferred tax effects arise as a consequence of difference between basis for amortization calculation according to accounting and tax regulations. Also, this difference accrues on basis of existence of equipment with purchase value in the moment of purchase lower than average gross salary in RS, on basis of non-used tax loan for investments in real estate, plants and equipment and in other cases when there is time difference between tax liability arising and tax payment due date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all chargeable temporary differences, while deferred tax resources are recognized in extent in which it is possible for chargeable profits to be available for usage of deducting temporary differences. The carrying value of deferred tax assets is examined on the balance sheet date and adjusted if necessary to comply with the current assessment of the taxable profits of future periods.

Deferred tax resources and liabilities are calculated at the tax rate of 15% whose use is expected in the period when the asset is realized or the liability settled.

Deferred income taxes are charged or credited in the income statement, except when it relates to items that are directly credited or charged to capital, and in this circumstance the deferred tax is also recognized within the capital.

Taxes and contributions independent of results

Taxes and contributions independent of results include real estate and other taxes and contributions in line with republic, tax and general regulations. These taxes and contributions are disclosed within other business expenditures.

Tax risks

The tax laws of the Republic of Serbia are often differently interpreted and are subject to frequent changes. The interpretation of tax legislation by tax authorities as applied to the transactions and activities of the Company may differ from the management interpretations. As a result of the foregoing, transactions may be challenged by tax authorities and the Company could be assessed additional taxes, penalties and interest. Period of obsolescence tax liability is five years. This practically means that tax authorities could determine payment of outstanding liabilities within five years from the origination of the liability.

3.11. Benefits for employees

Taxes and contributions to funds for social security of employees

In line with regulations applicative in Republic of Serbia, the Company pays contributions to state funds which provide social security of employees. Such obligations include contributions for employees at cost of employer in amounts calculated at rates proscribed by relevant regulations. The company is, also obliged to suspend contributions from gross salaries of employees and pay that, in name of employees, to those funds. Contributions at cost of employer and contributions at cost of employees are booked as expenditures of related period.

3.11. Benefits for employees

Reserving for terminal wages and jubilee bonuses

3.12. Leasing

Leasing is classified as financial leasing whenever all the risks and benefits arising from ownership of assets are transferred to the fullest extent to the lessee by lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

The Company as lessor

Revenues based on operating leases (income from rents) are recognized using the straight-line method over the lease period. Indirect costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Company as lessee

Assets held by financial leasing contracts are initially recognized as assets of the Company at the present value of the minimum lease payments determined at the beginning of the lease period. The corresponding liability to the lessor is included in the balance sheet as a liability from financial leasing.

Payment of lease instalments is allocated between financial expenses and reduction of the lease liability in order to achieve a constant rate of participation in the outstanding amount of the obligation. Finance expenses are recognized immediately in the income statement, except if directly attributable to assets that are qualified for use, in which case they are capitalized in accordance with the general policy of the Company's borrowing costs.

Rate based on operating leases are recognized as an expense on a straight-line basis during the lease term, unless there is another systematic basis that better reflects the time pattern which economic benefits from the leased asset.

In the event that lease incentives are granted, those included in the operational leasing and are recognized as a liability. The benefit of incentives is recognized as a reduction in expenses for rent on a straight-line basis, unless there is another systematic basis that better reflects the time structure of consumption of economic benefits from the leased asset.

3.13. Information on business segments

The Company performs business activity as single business segment, provision of airport services. Accordingly, information relating to sales income per products and services, geographical information on income from sales, represent disclosure at company level.

3.14. Financial instruments

Any contractual right from which arises a financial asset and a financial liability or equity instrument is recognized as a financial instrument on the settlement date.

Upon initial recognition, financial assets and financial liabilities are measured at cost, being the fair value of compensation given (in the case of assets) or received (in the case of liabilities).

De-recognition of financial assets is when the contractual rights to the cash flows arising from the financial asset expire or when substantially all the risks and rewards are transferred. De-recognition of financial liabilities is when the obligation is extinguished, settled, cancelled or expired.

Long term investments

Long-term investments after initially recognized are measured by:

- Fair values, if held for trading,
- Amortized cost, if you have a fixed maturity date,
- Cost value, if they do not have a fixed maturity date.

Long-term investments held for trading and for which, due to the lack of an active market, it is not possible to determine a market value, are carried at purchase cost.

Long-term loans granted to employees are measured at fair value discounted by applying market interest rates.

Short-term receivables and investments

Short-term receivables and investments include receivables from sales and other receivables, as well as short-term loans to employees.

Receivables from sales of goods and services are measured by the cost of the original invoice. Invoiced interest related to the sale of goods and services are recognized as other receivables and are recorded in income in the period in which they arise.

Other receivables and investments originated by the company are measured at amortized cost.

Any difference between the carrying amount and subsequent measurement is recognized as a gain or loss in the period in which incurred.

Devaluation of funds

At each balance date, objective evidences of the value of assets are evaluated, by analysis of expected net cash inflows.

For all receivables for which there is reasonable doubt that they will not be collected in a nominal amount, corrections shall be made. Direct write-off shall be made only after the end of the litigation or by decision of the management body.

3.14. Financial instruments

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on current accounts at banks and in hand and highly liquid investments with maturity up to three months after the acquisition, which can be quickly converted to known amounts of cash, and which are not subject to significant risk of changes in value.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are initially recognized at the proceeds received. After initial recognition, financial liabilities are measured at the amount by which the liabilities are initially recognized, reduced by repayments of principal, increased by the amount of capitalized interest and reduced by any write-off approved by the creditor. Interest payable on financial liabilities is charged to financial expenses in the period to which they relate, and presented within other short-term liabilities and accruals and deferred income.

3.15. The capital, reserves and payment of profits (dividends)

The basic capital consists of the nominal value of the issued shares. Other components of the capital include:

- · Revaluation reserves based on the revaluation of property, plant and equipment
- · Actuarial gains and losses on defined benefit plans
- Other reserves

All retained gains and accumulated losses in this and prior periods are recognized in undistributed profit and loss.

Distributed profits (dividends) are recognized under liabilities when the Assembly of the Company adopts a decision on profit distribution.

3.16. Provisions, contingent assets and contingent liabilities

Provision for legal disputes, harmful contracts or other requirements towards the Company is recognized when for the Company's performance arise a legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, when it is a certain outflow of economic benefits from the Company and when amounts of these outflows can be reliably estimated. Time or the exact amount of the outflow may still be uncertain.

Restructuring costs are recognized only when there is a detailed formal plan for the restructuring and the management has announced the main features of the plan to everyone a plan has influence to or the execution of the plan has already begun. Provisions are not recognized for future operating losses.

Provisions are measured at the estimated expenditure required to settle the present obligation, based on the most reliable evidence available on the date of adoption of the report, including the risks and uncertainties associated with the present obligation. For a number of similar obligations, the likelihood of outflow for settling is determined at the level of obligations class. Provisions are discounted to present value, in the event that the amount of discounting is materially significant.

Any remuneration in connection with the obligations for which it is certain that the Company will realize from third parties are recognized as a separate asset. However, this asset cannot be a larger amount than the related provision.

3.16. Provisions, contingent assets and contingent liabilities (cont'd)

No obligation, that is, no provision is recognized if there is not a certain outflow of economic benefits arising from present obligations. Such situations are disclosed as a contingent liability, except in cases where the possibility of outflow is small.

3.17 Summary of important accounting evaluations

Presentation of financial statements requires the Company management to use the best possible estimates and reasonable assumptions that have effect to the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the balance sheet date, as well as revenues and expenditures during the reporting period. These estimates and assumptions are based on information available at the date of the financial statements. Actual results may differ from estimated.

Shown below are the key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimating uncertainty at the balance sheet date, which represent a significant risk for material adjustments to the balance sheet items in the following financial year.

3.17.1. Amortisation and amortisation rate

Calculation of amortization and amortization rates are based on projected economic useful life of property, plant and equipment. Once a year, the Company assesses the economic useful life based on current forecasts.

In addition, due to the significance of fixed assets in the total assets of the Company, any change in the aforementioned assumptions may lead to material effects on the financial position of the Company as well as the financial result. As an example, if the Company shorten the average useful life by 10%, this would result in additional amortization charges for the year ended on 31 December 2015 for about RSD 76,788 thousand (year ended on 31 December 2014: RSD 81.704 thousand).

3.17.2. Correction of values of uncollectible receivables

We calculated value correction for receivables older than 60 days, based on the estimated losses due to customer inability to fulfil the obligations. Our estimate is based on the aging analysis of receivables, historical write-offs, credit worthiness of our customers and changes in the conditions of sale, in determining the adequacy of the value correction of doubtful and disputed receivables. This includes assumptions about future customer behaviour and the resulting future collections. Management believes that no additional value correction of receivables is necessary, with the exception of value correction already reported in the financial statements.

3.17.3. Litigations

Overall, provisions have largely been subject to estimates. The Company assesses the likelihood of adverse cases may occur as a result of past events and assesses the amount required to settle the obligation. Assessment of potential liabilities arising from legal disputes is carried out by internal expert services or external advisors.

Although the Company respects the precautionary principle when evaluating, considering that there is a large dose of uncertainty, in some cases actual results may differ from these estimates.

3.17.4. Fair value

The fair value for the purposes of disclosure under the requirements of IFRS 13 is defined as the price that would be received for the sale of assets, or paid to transfer obligations in a regular transaction between market participants on the measurement date.

Business policy of the Company is to disclose information about the fair (fair) value of assets and liabilities for which official market information exist and when fair value is materially different from the

carrying value. In the Republic of Serbia there is no sufficient market experience, stability and liquidity for the purchase and sale of receivables and other financial assets or liabilities, given that published market information is not readily available. Hence, fair value can not be reliably determined in the absence of an active market. The Company's management assesses risk and when it estimates that the value of assets stated in its books may not be realized, it makes value corrections. In the opinion of the company management, the amounts in these financial statements reflect the value that is, in the circumstances, the most valid and useful for reporting purposes.

3. PREVIEW OF IMPORTANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd.)

3.17.4. Fair value (cont'd.)

The Company measures the fair value of assets and liabilities using assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their best economic interest. The fair value is the price that would be charged or paid for the transfer of responsibilities in a regular transaction at the primary or most favorable market on the date of measurement, the current market conditions, and regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using other valuation techniques.

Valuation techniques that are applied for measuring fair value, should make maximum use of relevant observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

To increase consistency and comparability in fair value measurements and related disclosures the fair value hierarchy shall be determined, which classifies into three levels inputs for valuation techniques that are used in determining the fair value according to the structure below:

- Inputs Level 1 quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets and liabilities to which the entity has access at the date of weighing. Assumptions of level 1 inputs relate to the existence of the primary market for the asset or liability or, in the absence of the primary market, the most advantageous market for the asset or liability; and whether the entity can realize the transaction for the asset or liability based on market price at the date of measurement.
- Inputs Level 2 inputs that are not quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs include the following: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs that are not quoted prices, if they are visible for assets or liabilities and inputs supported by market.
- Inputs Level 3 unobservable inputs for the asset or liability that entity develops using the best information available in the circumstances. So, all reasonably available information about the market participants assumptions are considered. Unobservable inputs are considered market participant assumptions and meet the objective of fair value measurement.

Revenue from services realized by foreign companies that were registered in the Republic of Serbia as a "branch", are recorded in the books as income from domestic customers. Since the physical scope of services of specified branches is recorded in the Company as a physical volume of services of foreign companies, said revenue in Note 5 and 6, are shown in the way they are recorded in accounting, and also in a separate column as revenues from sales of goods and services from registered branches, for insight in the amount and participation of these revenues, which are recorded as revenues generated in the domestic market, but the essence is that the origin of these revenues is the foreign market.

a) Currency risk (foreign exchange risk) (Cont'd.)

The Company is sensitive mainly to changes in the exchange rate of the euro (EUR) and U.S. Dollar (USD).

The following table presents a sensitivity analysis of the Company to increase and decrease in RSD rate of 10%, in comparison to the foreign currency. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding receivables and liabilities in foreign currency and shows their change of 10% at the end of the reporting period in exchange rates. A positive number in the table indicates an increase of the result in the current period when RSD strengthens against the currency in question. In the case of weakening of RSD by 10% compared to the foreign currency, the effect on the current period would be negative.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Assembly of Shareholders and Supervisory Board of A.D. Aerodrom Nikola Tesla Beograd

Report on financial statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of A.D. Aerodrom Nikola Tesla Beograd, which comprise the Balance Sheet Statement as at December 31, 2015, and the Income Statement, Statement of Comprehensive Income, Statement of Changes in Equity and Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Serbian GAAP, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

As disclosed in note 29 to the financial statements, Company's property, plant and equipment as of December 31, 2015 were stated at a revalued amount of RSD 21,529,104 thousand (as of December 31, 2014 at a revalued amount of RSD 21,585,698 thousand), based on the appraisal of these assets as of December 31, 2014 by an independent certified appraiser. Cost replacement method and comparative market approach were used for the appraisal. Based on available documentation and procedures performed, we were unable to satisfy ourselves as to whether aforesaid appraisal methods were adequate for certain categories of property, plant and equipment, or as to the proper documenting of supporting information used in application of certain appraisal methods. Also, Company has not made all necessary disclosures regarding the appraisal of stated assets fair value as required by the IFRS 13 "Fair Value Measurement". Accordingly, it was not possible to estimate the effects that these matters may have on the reported values of property, plant and equipment, revaluation reserves and related deferred tax liabilities as of December 31, 2015, nor the calculated depreciation expense and the result before tax for 2015.

As disclosed in note 35 to the financial statements, Company has presented in comparative information as of December 31, 2014 domestic trade receivables in amount of RSD 3,293,944 thousand (before impairment allowance of RSD 2,617,229 thousand) which include receivables due from the Republic of Serbia Public Debt Directorate in the amount of RSD 2,145,319 thousand (before impairment allowance of RSD 1,897,107 thousand). The aforesaid receivables arose from the assumption of debt owed by Air Serbia d.o.o. Beograd to the Company, pursuant to the Law on Assumption of Liabilities of the Company Air Serbia to Legal Entities and Private Individuals for Services Rendered and Goods Delivered and Conversion Thereof into Public Debt of Republic of Serbia (hereinafter: the "Law"). Although the aforesaid receivables were collected in full as of March 31, 2015, as stipulated by the Law, Company has not applied the provisions of IAS 39 "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement" in relation to impairment, nor the provisions of IAS 10 "Events after the Reporting Period" in relation to adjusting events after the reporting period, i.e. income for stated collection and consequently reversal of impairment was recognized in full in 2015, instead of 2014. Had the Company properly applied aforesaid provisions, trade receivables as of December 31, 2014, and other income and result before tax for 2014 would have been increased by RSD 1,897,107 thousand, and other income and result before tax for 2015 would have been decreased by RSD 1,897,107 thousand. This matter does not impact the balance of Company's net equity as of December 31, 2015.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matters described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion paragraphs, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of A.D. Aerodrom Nikola Tesla Beograd as at December 31, 2015, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Serbian GAAP.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 2.1. to the financial statements which states that the Company has not calculated deferred tax liabilities on account of revalued land, as the Company considers that related provisions of IAS 12 "Income Taxes" cannot be applied in these circumstances due to inability of clear interpretation of the rules regarding the tax treatment of any sale or transfer of rights to use the land, then due to determining the usage rights and ownership rights of Company's land, and due to specific nature of business and regulations applicable to airport operations in Republic of Serbia, as well as specific provisions of Standalone articles of Law on amendments and annexes to the Law on right to free shares and financial compensation realized by the citizens in the privatization process ("Official Gazette of RS" no. 30/2010). Further, assuming that in the case of sale or transfer of rights to use the land this transaction would be subject to capital gains tax and that the purchase value for tax purposes would be determined at the level of purchase value recorded in the books as of December 31, 2003 as determined in accordance with the previously applicable accounting regulations which is a prescribed procedure for real estate owned by legal entities in the Republic of Serbia, in accordance with IAS 12 "Income Taxes" deferred tax liabilities on account of the revalued land as of December 31, 2015 would amount to RSD 1,163,256 thousand, i.e. total liabilities would be increased, and the equity decreased by the same amount. If and when there is a conversion of right to use into the ownership rights for the land referred, deferred tax liabilities will undoubtedly exist and the Company will have to record them and present them in its financial statements. Our opinion is not qualified in respect of this matter.

Other matters

The financial statements of the Company for the year ended December 31, 2014 were audited by another auditor who expressed a qualified opinion on those statements in his report on April 20, 2015. Predecessor auditor had qualified matters related to fair valuation of property, plant and equipment, as well as the matter of receivables from the Republic of Serbia Public Debt Directorate which were collected before reporting date of audited financial statements, but previously recognized impairment was not reversed.

In accordance with the Rulebook on the provision of ground handling services at airports ("Official Gazette of Republic of Serbia" no. 61/2015), Company is responsible for such accounting of airport operator activities and ground handling activities which will secure complete accounting separation of stated activities, and that annual financial statements display the lack of any interrelated financial flows between stated activities. # 2. BASIS FOR COMPOSITION AND PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND ACCOUNTING METHOD

2.1 Basis for composition and presentation of financial statements

Financial statements for I-XII 2015 have been prepared in accordance legislation and approved at the meeting of the Supervisory Board on 26.04.2016.

Legal entities and entrepreneurs in Serbia are required to maintain books of account, recognition and evaluation of assets and liabilities, income and expenditure, and to make, present, submit and disclose financial statements in accordance with the Law on Accounting and Auditing (hereinafter the Law published in the "Official Gazette of the RS", No. 62/2013) and in accordance with other relevant secondary legislation. A company as large legal entity is required to apply International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"), which in terms of the Law include: Framework for the Preparation and Presentation of Financial Statements ("Framework"), International Accounting Standards ("IAS"), international Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") and related interpretations issued by the Committee for the interpretation of accounting standards ("IFRIC"), subsequent amendments to those standards and related interpretations approved by the International Accounting standards Board ("Board") of which the translation is determined and published by the Ministry in charge of finance.

Decision of the Ministry of 13 March 2014, which was published in the Official Gazette No. 35 of 27 March 2014 (hereinafter "the Decision on establishing the translations") determined and published translations of the basic texts of IAS and IFRS conceptual framework for financial reporting ("Conceptual Framework"), approved by the Board, as well as related IFRIC interpretations. Those translations published in the Decision on establishing the translation does not include the basis for conclusions, illustrative examples, guidelines, comments, opposing opinions, developed examples and other supplementary explaining material that can be adopted in relation to standards or interpretations, unless expressly stated that the material is an integral part of these standards or interpretations. Based on Decision on establishing translation the conceptual framework, IAS, IFRS, IFRIC and related interpretations that are translated are in the application from the financial statements that are prepared as of 31 December 2014. Revised or issued IFRS and standard interpretations, after this date, have not been translated and published, and therefore are not applied in the preparation of these financial statements.

However, to the date of these financial statements, not all amendments to IAS / IFRS and IFRIC interpretations were translated that were effective for annual periods beginning on 1 January 2015. In addition, certain laws and subordinate legislation prescribes the accounting procedures, evaluation and disclosure which in some cases differ from the requirements of IAS / IFRS and IFRIC interpretations.

In addition, enclosed financial statements defer from IAS and IFRS following points:

- Deviations from IAS 1 "Presentation of Financial Statements" and IAS 16 "Property, plant and equipment" in the treatment and recording the effects of equity valuation and whose main part is the valuation of property and equipment and investment property. Namely, in accordance with Article 27 of the Independent Members Law on Amendments and Supplements to the Law on right to free shares and financial compensation realized by the citizens in the privatization procedure ("Official Gazette" no. 30/2010) the founder of the Company was required to ensure that until June 30, 2010, the Company changes its legal form and expresses its capital in shares of certain par value based on the adjusted book value of equity. Accordingly, after the capital valuation was performed posting of estimated values of assets and liabilities in favour of the revaluation reserves. Based on the decision of the Board of Directors of the Company No. 04-100 /1 of 31 May 2010 on the capital increase, and the Decision of the Government of the Republic of Serbia number 023-4175/2010 of 4 June 2010 on the approval of the aforementioned decision on the increase of capital from their own funds by converting the reserves and retained earnings into core capital of JP Aerodrom Nikola Tesla, the Company in its business books made accounting records of increase of the state capital as of 1 January 2010, adjusting the opening balance by reduction of other capital, reserves, revaluation reserves and retained earnings. The aforementioned accounting treatment departs from IAS 16 "Property, plant and equipment", according to which: 1) the result of the revaluation attributed directly to equity, in line item revaluation reserve or recognized as revenue in the income statement to the extent that it reverses a revaluation decrease of the same asset previously recognized as an expense, as well as in the area where 2) revaluation reserves that are part of capital related to property, plant and equipment may be transferred directly to retained earnings when the asset ceases to be recognized. Due to the above mentioned recognition of valuation in the accompanying financial statements in accordance with the mentioned acts are not in accordance with IAS 1 either "Presentation of Financial Statements" and IAS 16 "Property, Plant and Equipment".
- Deviations from IAS 12 "Income Taxes" on the basis of which the recognized deferred tax liability or asset arising from the revaluation of assets that are not amortized in accordance with IAS 16 "Property, Plant and Equipment" and measures based on the tax consequences that would ensue recovery of the carrying value of that asset through sale, regardless of the basis for measuring the carrying value of the asset. Due to the inability of a clear interpretation of the rules regarding the tax treatment of any sale or transfer of rights to use the land, and the determination and the right to dispose of land ownership in the Company, and for the specific activities and regulation of business operations of airports in the Republic of Serbia, as well as the specific provisions of Independent Members of the Law of the amendments and supplements to the Law on right to free shares and financial compensation realized by the citizens in the privatization process ("Official Gazette of RS" no. 30/2010), we consider that those provisions of IAS 12 "Income Taxes" can not be applied in the circumstances. Assuming that in the case of sale or transfer of rights to use the land this transaction would be subject to capital gains tax and that the purchase value for tax purposes would be determined at the level of purchase value reported in the books of the Company on 31.12.2003 as determined in accordance with the previously applicable accounting regulations as prescribed procedure for real estate owned by legal entities in the Republic of Serbia, in accordance with IAS 12 "Income Taxes" deferred tax liabilities based on the revalued land as of 31.12.2015 amounted to RSD 1,163,256 thousand, ie total liabilities would be increased, and the capital reduced by the same amount. If and when there is a conversion of right to use the title to the land referred deferred tax liabilities will undoubtedly exist and the Company will have to register them and shown in its financial statements.

2. BASIS FOR COMPOSITION AND PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (cont'd)

• According to the Ministry, the participation of employees in the profit is recorded as a reduction of retained earnings, and not at the expense of the result of the current period, as required by IAS 19 "Employee Benefits".

Revenue from lease based on operational leasing are recognized evenly over the lease.

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the funds received or receivable, in net amount after deduction of discounts and value added tax.

Revenue from interest and dividends are recognized in accordance with the principle of the formation in favour of the accounting period to which they relate, using the effective interest method.

With the date on which revenues are recognized are also recognized corresponding expenditures (principle of causality of revenue and expenditure).

Operating expenditures are recognized in the income statement according to utilization of acquired services or as they are incurred.

Expenses are accounted for on an accrual basis of revenue and expenditure.

Maintenance and repair of fixed assets are recorded in the income statement in the accounting period when they arise.

3. PREVIEW OF IMPORTANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd.)

3.2. Costs of borrowings

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, are included in the purchase value of the asset and until that period when all the activities are essentially completed, necessary to prepare the asset for the intended use or sale. Assets being qualified relate to the assets which required a significant period of time to get ready for its intended use.

Income from investments realized on the basis of the temporary investment of borrowed funds is deducted from the borrowing costs incurred intended to finance assets that qualify.

All other borrowing costs are recognized in the income statement in the period to which they relate.

3.3. Conversion of foreign exchange amount

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are converted into dinars at the official exchange rates established on the Interbank Exchange Market, prevailing at the transaction date.

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the balance sheet date are converted into dinars by applying the official exchange rates established on the Interbank Exchange Market, in effect on that day.

Gains and losses arising from transactions in foreign currencies and from the recalculation of monetary items in the balance sheet items denominated in foreign currencies are credited or charged to the income statement as gains or losses from exchange rate differences.

Non-monetary items in the balance sheet are not recalculated at the balance sheet date but are carried at historical cost, calculated at the exchange rate on the date of transaction, except for non-monetary items that are measured at fair value, in which case they are recalculated at the exchange rate on the date of determination of fair value. Revenues and Expenditures based on exchange rate differences and currency clause effects are recorded in the income statement of the recorded period.

Average foreign exchange rates, determined at the interbank foreign exchange market, used in the conversion of foreign currency balance sheet positions into dinars, for the major currencies were as follows:

|------------------------------|--------------|------------|--|
| Middel exchange rate of NBS: | Value in RSD |            |  |

| GBP                          | 164.9391     | 154.3650   |  |

Liabilities based on long-term loans from the EIB and obligations of Hypo Leasing, are converted into RSD counter value at an agreed selling rate of the bank.

Selling rates of banks on the date of financial statements preparation are presented in the following table:

3. PREVIEW OF IMPORTANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd.)

3.4. Intangible investments

Intangible assets relate to purchased software and licenses and are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and are written-off by straight line method over a period of two to ten years.

3.5. Real estates, plants, equipment, biological resources

Property, plant and equipment that meet the requirements for recognition of assets are carried at their purchase price or cost. Cost represents the invoiced amount plus all expenses incurred to its intended use.

After initial recognition, property, plant and equipment are presented at revalued amount that reflects their fair value at the date of revaluation, less the total amount of the value correction based on amortization and total amount of value correction for impairment loss.

The fair value of real estate makes their market value, which is determined by the assessment. Revaluation takes place only when the fair value of a revalued asset differs materially from its carrying amount. Gains from revaluation are recognized in other gains and losses in favour of the revaluation reserve in equity. Do the amounts previously recognized losses from the revaluation or impairment recognized in the income statement, gains from revaluation are recognized in the income statement, and the rest of gains are recognized in other gains and losses. Losses on revaluation are recognized after valuation or testing for impairment, and are recognized in other gains and losses up to the amount of previously recognized revaluation reserve in equity and the remainder of losses are recognized in the income statement. At expenditure or disposal of assets related revaluation reserve is transferred directly to undistributed profit.

The last assessment of the value of property, plant and equipment was made on 31.12.2014.

Tools and supplies, whose useful life is longer than one year and individual purchase price greater than the average gross salary in the Republic, are recognized as property, plant and equipment at purchase cost. These assets are amortized according to the estimated useful life.

Gains or losses arising from write-offs or alienation are recognized as revenue or expenditure in the income statement.

3.6. Amortisation of properties, plants, equipment and intangible investments

Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is calculated using straight-line method over the estimated useful life. The depreciation rates that were used in the 2014 business year, as well as the rate of amortization calculated based on the useful life of the assets applied in 2015 are given in the following table:

3.7. Investment property

Investment properties are properties that the Company, as the owner, holds to earn rentals or for capital appreciation or for both of them, and not for use in the provision of services or for administrative purpose or sale in the ordinary course of business. Initial measurement of investment property during the acquisition is carried at purchase value or cost price. After initial recognition, valuation of investment property is carried at fair value at the end of each business year. Positive and negative effects from changes in fair value of investment property are recognized through the income statement.

The Company has engaged a certified appraiser - Institute for Economic Research Belgrade, to assess the value of investment property as on 31.12.2015.

In the report on assessment of the fair value the investment property is determined by the weight of probability of estimated value using the replacement cost method and the yield method.

3.8. Impairment

At each balance sheet date the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that there has been a loss due to the impairment of such assets. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of assets is estimated so that the extent of the impairment loss could be determined. If it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit, to which the asset belongs.

The recoverable amount is net selling price or value in use, whichever is higher. For the purposes of assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using the discount rate before tax that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

If the estimated recoverable amount of the asset (or cash generating unit) is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. Losses from impairment are recognized as an expense immediately, unless the relevant asset is land or buildings that are not used as investment property carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is treated as a reduction in the value of revaluation.

With the subsequent reversal of the impairment, the carrying amount of the asset (cash generating unit) is increased to the revised estimated recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined in previous years if there were no losses recognized in this asset (cash generating unit) due to impairment. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in income, unless the relevant asset is carried at appraised value, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is treated as an increase due to revaluation.

On 3 Secember, 2015, based on the Company's management estimates there are no indications that the value of the assets is impaired.

3.9. Stocks

Stocks are disclosed per purchase value, i.e. cost value or net sale value, depending on the fact which one is lower.

Net sale value is price for sale of stocks in nominal operation conditions after price decrease by sale costs. Cost includes the invoiced value, transport and acquisition costs.

Calculation of stock output is determined by the method of average weighed purchase price.

Inventories are recorded at the sales price. At the end of the accounting period, their value is adjusted to cost allocation, price differences, calculated on an average basis between the purchaser cost of realized goods and supplies in stock at the end of the year.

Charged to other expenses shall be corrected inventory value in cases where it determines that is necessary to bring value to their net estimated realizable value (including inventories with slow turnover, excess and obsolete inventories). Damaged inventory and inventory that does not meet the standards are written off.

3.10. Taxes and contributions

Income tax

Income tax expense in the income statement represents the sum of current tax expense and deferred tax expense not recognized within other gains and losses or directly in equity.

Receivables and liabilities in respect of current income tax or deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only when the Company has a legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts and if it intends to settle on a net basis or simultaneously realize the asset and settle the liability.

Current income tax

Assets and liabilities arising from current income taxes represent liabilities or receivables from the fiscal authorities in connection with the current or prior periods that are not implemented on the date of these financial statements.

Current income tax represents an amount calculated by applying the statutory income tax rate of 15% on the tax base determined in the tax balance, which represents the amount of profit before tax after deduction of the effects of adjusting income and expenses, in accordance with the tax regulations of the Republic of Serbia, with the decrease in the statutory income tax credits.

The Law on Corporate Income Tax of the Republic of Serbia do not envisage that any tax losses of the current period be used to recover taxes paid in previous years. However, losses which are included in the tax balance until 2009, can be used to reduce the tax base in future periods over the next ten years from the vesting date, and the losses realized and recognized in the tax statement for 2010 and beyond, can be used to reduce the tax base in future periods, but not longer than five years.

The Law on Corporate Income Tax of the Republic of Serbia in the part of tax credit provides that taxpayers who have until December 31, 2013 were entitled to a tax incentive under Art. 48. The previous law, and expressed the information in the tax return and the tax return for 2013, cannot be entitled to use up to the deadline and in the manner prescribed by the earlier law. According to Art.48 Paragraph 5 of the previous law, "unused tax credits can be offset against income tax in future periods up to the prescribed limit of 33% (for large and medium-sized enterprises), but not longer than ten (10) years that you apply as of the tax balance sheet for the year 2003 ". In determining the income tax for 2016, the earliest previous tax period from which they can use unused tax credit is the tax account or PK form in 2006. Transferred tax credit is used in the order of investment.

Deferred income tax

Deferred tax effects arise as a consequence of difference between basis for amortization calculation according to accounting and tax regulations. Also, this difference accrues on basis of existence of equipment with purchase value in the moment of purchase lower than average gross salary in RS, on basis of non-used tax loan for investments in real estate, plants and equipment and in other cases when there is time difference between tax liability arising and tax payment due date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all chargeable temporary differences, while deferred tax resources are recognized in extent in which it is possible for chargeable profits to be available for usage of deducting temporary differences. The carrying value of deferred tax assets is examined on the balance sheet date and adjusted if necessary to comply with the current assessment of the taxable profits of future periods.

Deferred tax resources and liabilities are calculated at the tax rate of 15% whose use is expected in the period when the asset is realized or the liability settled.

Deferred income taxes are charged or credited in the income statement, except when it relates to items that are directly credited or charged to capital, and in this circumstance the deferred tax is also recognized within the capital.

Taxes and contributions independent of results

Taxes and contributions independent of results include real estate and other taxes and contributions in line with republic, tax and general regulations. These taxes and contributions are disclosed within other business expenditures.

Tax risks

The tax laws of the Republic of Serbia are often differently interpreted and are subject to frequent changes. The interpretation of tax legislation by tax authorities as applied to the transactions and activities of the Company may differ from the management interpretations. As a result of the foregoing, transactions may be challenged by tax authorities and the Company could be assessed additional taxes, penalties and interest. Period of obsolescence tax liability is five years. This practically means that tax authorities could determine payment of outstanding liabilities within five years from the origination of the liability.

3.11. Benefits for employees

Taxes and contributions to funds for social security of employees

In line with regulations applicative in Republic of Serbia, the Company pays contributions to state funds which provide social security of employees. Such obligations include contributions for employees at cost of employer in amounts calculated at rates proscribed by relevant regulations. The company is, also obliged to suspend contributions from gross salaries of employees and pay that, in name of employees, to those funds. # 3.12. Leasing

Leasing is classified as financial leasing whenever all the risks and benefits arising from ownership of assets are transferred to the fullest extent to the lessee by lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

The Company as lessor

Revenues based on operating leases (income from rents) are recognized using the straight-line method over the lease period. Indirect costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Company as lessee

Assets held by financial leasing contracts are initially recognized as assets of the Company at the present value of the minimum lease payments determined at the beginning of the lease period. The corresponding liability to the lessor is included in the balance sheet as a liability from financial leasing.

Payment of lease instalments is allocated between financial expenses and reduction of the lease liability in order to achieve a constant rate of participation in the outstanding amount of the obligation. Finance expenses are recognized immediately in the income statement, except if directly attributable to assets that are qualified for use, in which case they are capitalized in accordance with the general policy of the Company's borrowing costs.

In the event that lease incentives are granted, those included in the operational leasing and are recognized as a liability. The benefit of incentives is recognized as a reduction in expenses for rent on a straight-line basis, unless there is another systematic basis that better reflects the time structure of consumption of economic benefits from the leased asset.

3.13. Information on business segments

3.14. Financial instruments

Upon initial recognition, financial assets and financial liabilities are measured at cost, being the fair value of compensation given (in the case of assets) or received (in the case of liabilities).

De-recognition of financial assets is when the contractual rights to the cash flows arising from the financial asset expire or when substantially all the risks and rewards are transferred. De-recognition of financial liabilities is when the obligation is extinguished, settled, cancelled or expired.

Long term investments

Long-term investments after initially recognized are measured by:

- Fair values, if held for trading,
- Amortized cost, if you have a fixed maturity date,
- Cost value, if they do not have a fixed maturity date.

Long-term investments held for trading and for which, due to the lack of an active market, it is not possible to determine a market value, are carried at purchase cost.

Long-term loans granted to employees are measured at fair value discounted by applying market interest rates.

Short-term receivables and investments

Short-term receivables and investments include receivables from sales and other receivables, as well as short-term loans to employees.

Receivables from sales of goods and services are measured by the cost of the original invoice. Invoiced interest related to the sale of goods and services are recognized as other receivables and are recorded in income in the period in which they arise.

Other receivables and investments originated by the company are measured at amortized cost.

Any difference between the carrying amount and subsequent measurement is recognized as a gain or loss in the period in which incurred.

For all receivables for which there is reasonable doubt that they will not be collected in a nominal amount, corrections shall be made. Direct write-off shall be made only after the end of the litigation or by decision of the management body.

3.14. Financial instruments

Financial liabilities are initially recognized at the proceeds received. After initial recognition, financial liabilities are measured at the amount by which the liabilities are initially recognized, reduced by repayments of principal, increased by the amount of capitalized interest and reduced by any write-off approved by the creditor. Interest payable on financial liabilities is charged to financial expenses in the period to which they relate, and presented within other short-term liabilities and accruals and deferred income.

3.15. The capital, reserves and payment of profits (dividends)

The basic capital consists of the nominal value of the issued shares. Other components of the capital include:

- · Revaluation reserves based on the revaluation of property, plant and equipment
- · Actuarial gains and losses on defined benefit plans
- · Other reserves

Distributed profits (dividends) are recognized under liabilities when the Assembly of the Company adopts a decision on profit distribution.

3.16. Provisions, contingent assets and contingent liabilities

Provision for legal disputes, harmful contracts or other requirements towards the Company is recognized when for the Company's performance arise a legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, when it is a certain outflow of economic benefits from the Company and when amounts of these outflows can be reliably estimated. Time or the exact amount of the outflow may still be uncertain.

Restructuring costs are recognized only when there is a detailed formal plan for the restructuring and the management has announced the main features of the plan to everyone a plan has influence to or the execution of the plan has already begun. Provisions are not recognized for future operating losses.

Provisions are measured at the estimated expenditure required to settle the present obligation, based on the most reliable evidence available on the date of adoption of the report, including the risks and uncertainties associated with the present obligation. For a number of similar obligations, the likelihood of outflow for settling is determined at the level of obligations class. Provisions are discounted to present value, in the event that the amount of discounting is materially significant.

Any remuneration in connection with the obligations for which it is certain that the Company will realize from third parties are recognized as a separate asset. However, this asset cannot be a larger amount than the related provision.

3. PREVIEW OF IMPORTANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd.) 3,16. Provisions, contingent assets and contingent liabilities (cont'd)

No obligation, that is, no provision is recognized if there is not a certain outflow of economic benefits arising from present obligations. Such situations are disclosed as a contingent liability, except in cases where the possibility of outflow is small.

3.17 Summary of important accounting evaluations

Presentation of financial statements requires the Company management to use the best possible estimates and reasonable assumptions that have effect to the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the balance sheet date, as well as revenues and expenditures during the reporting period. These estimates and assumptions are based on information available at the date of the financial statements. Actual results may differ from estimated.

Shown below are the key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimating uncertainty at the balance sheet date, which represent a significant risk for material adjustments to the balance sheet items in the following financial year.

3.17.1. Amortisation and amortisation rate

Calculation of amortization and amortization rates are based on projected economic useful life of property, plant and equipment. Once a year, the Company assesses the economic useful life based on current forecasts.

In addition, due to the significance of fixed assets in the total assets of the Company, any change in the aforementioned assumptions may lead to material effects on the financial position of the Company as well as the financial result. As an example, if the Company shorten the average useful life by 10%, this would result in additional amortization charges for the year ended on 31 December 2015 for about RSD 76,788 thousand (year ended on 31 December 2014: RSD 81.704 thousand).

3.17.2. Correction of values of uncollectible receivables

We calculated value correction for receivables older than 60 days, based on the estimated losses due to customer inability to fulfil the obligations. Our estimate is based on the aging analysis of receivables, historical write-offs, credit worthiness of our customers and changes in the conditions of sale, in determining the adequacy of the value correction of doubtful and disputed receivables. This includes assumptions about future customer behaviour and the resulting future collections. Management believes that no additional value correction of receivables is necessary, with the exception of value correction already reported in the financial statements.

3.17.3. Litigations

Overall, provisions have largely been subject to estimates. The Company assesses the likelihood of adverse cases may occur as a result of past events and assesses the amount required to settle the obligation. Assessment of potential liabilities arising from legal disputes is carried out by internal expert services or external advisors.

Although the Company respects the precautionary principle when evaluating, considering that there is a large dose of uncertainty, in some cases actual results may differ from these estimates.

3.17.4. Fair value

The fair value for the purposes of disclosure under the requirements of IFRS 13 is defined as the price that would be received for the sale of assets, or paid to transfer obligations in a regular transaction between market participants on the measurement date.

Business policy of the Company is to disclose information about the fair (fair) value of assets and liabilities for which official market information exist and when fair value is materially different from the

carrying value. In the Republic of Serbia there is no sufficient market experience, stability and liquidity for the purchase and sale of receivables and other financial assets or liabilities, given that published market information is not readily available. Hence, fair value can not be reliably determined in the absence of an active market. The Company's management assesses risk and when it estimates that the value of assets stated in its books may not be realized, it makes value corrections. In the opinion of the company management, the amounts in these financial statements reflect the value that is, in the circumstances, the most valid and useful for reporting purposes.

The Company measures the fair value of assets and liabilities using assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their best economic interest. The fair value is the price that would be charged or paid for the transfer of responsibilities in a regular transaction at the primary or most favorable market on the date of measurement, the current market conditions, and regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using other valuation techniques.

Valuation techniques that are applied for measuring fair value, should make maximum use of relevant observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

To increase consistency and comparability in fair value measurements and related disclosures the fair value hierarchy shall be determined, which classifies into three levels inputs for valuation techniques that are used in determining the fair value according to the structure below:

- Inputs Level 1 quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets and liabilities to which the entity has access at the date of weighing. Assumptions of level 1 inputs relate to the existence of the primary market for the asset or liability or, in the absence of the primary market, the most advantageous market for the asset or liability; and whether the entity can realize the transaction for the asset or liability based on market price at the date of measurement.
- Inputs Level 2 inputs that are not quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs include the following: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs that are not quoted prices, if they are visible for assets or liabilities and inputs supported by market.
- Inputs Level 3 unobservable inputs for the asset or liability that entity develops using the best information available in the circumstances. So, all reasonably available information about the market participants assumptions are considered. Unobservable inputs are considered market participant assumptions and meet the objective of fair value measurement.

4. CORRECTION OF THE INITIAL BALANCE

4. CORRECTION OF THE INITIAL BALANCE (cont'd.)

The Company made a new calculation of tax amortization for the first amortization group (for real estate) for the past 10 years, according to the new MF Opinion of 2015, made amendment to amount of the tax amortization in the tax balances for the last 5 years (from 2010 to 2014) in positions of tax amortization.

Changes – reduction of the amount of tax amortization resulted in increase of the tax base, and from there to an increase in income tax liabilities of the Company.

Revenue from services realized by foreign companies that were registered in the Republic of Serbia as a "branch", are recorded in the books as income from domestic customers. Since the physical scope of services of specified branches is recorded in the Company as a physical volume of services of foreign companies, said revenue in Note 5 and 6, are shown in the way they are recorded in accounting, and also in a separate column as revenues from sales of goods and services from registered branches, for insight in the amount and participation of these revenues, which are recorded as revenues generated in the domestic market, but the essence is that the origin of these revenues is the foreign market.
